Sue Vivant (pronounced Vi/vant) returns to help Qigong Connection chart its course for 2013 with the help of spirit guides associated with our group. Sue provided a vibrant demonstration of her ability to bring forth spiritual guides and their messages at our October meeting working with individuals. On the 15th she will look for those spirit guides that carry our collective energy and bring out their messages relative to the continued success of our group. The more of us who are there, the stronger the connection will be.

Sue Vivant is an agent through whom others communicate with spirit guides, angels, and other beings beyond the veil. For more about her background and practice, see the profile posted for our October meeting.
